By Pilar Cannizzaro I just purchased this beautiful book from one of 's sellers and I'm floored with its quality, gorgeous photographs and coffee-table size, as well as the great message within its pages from Mr. Kennedy. This is a feast for the eyes, not only for Mid-century Mod lovers and Palm Springs aficionados like me, but anyone into modern, whimsical, colorful design. The book's images are evocative of Lilly Pulitzer, Kate Spade, Trina Turk, and Tory Burch's styles, all rolled-up in one, with luscious pictures of care-free, sun-loving living, whether in Palm Springs, or wherever you are, which is the main message from Mr. Kennedy, that this way of living can be attainable, if only you try. He's got 100 ways/tips to do so, each one more inspiring than the next. I'm visiting Palm Springs again in May and will bring my book, in hopes to get it signed if by chance I meet Mr. Kennedy at his shop there. A truly great addition to my many books on Mid-Century Modern architecture, decor and lifestyle.

Midcentury design has a hold on the American consciousness: from television, to commercials, to the fashion runway. Yet, not all of us can live in a pedigreed midcentury home; fear not! The principles of midcentury design can be applied to the most unassuming spaces. Making Midcentury Modern is created to help you make midcentury modern by offering one hundred foolproof tips for introducing modernist design into a contemporary home. In line with forward-thinking designers of the midcentury, the principles in this book are presented in a way that feels fresh, relevant, and current. Christopher Kennedy has quickly and not-so-quietly emerged as one of the nation's freshest voices in home furnishings and interior design. Working from his studio and shop in Palm Springs, his name has become synonymous with Jet Set modern luxury and vibrant California glamour. Christopher's work and products have captured the attention of such leading publications as Architectural Digest, Dwell Magazine, Elle Decor, Luxe Magazine, and The Los Angeles Times. In 2010, Christopher launched his own line of modern luxury furnishings, which is sold in to-the-trade showrooms across the country. The following year saw the expansion of his brand into candles, home decor, and outdoor furnishings.
