John Sollo : Miller's American Insider's Guide to Twentieth-Century Furniture (Miller's Insider's Guides) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Miller's American Insider's Guide to Twentieth-Century Furniture (Miller's Insider's Guides):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Miller Guide to modern and post-modern furnishings By Hubert Hernandez Great general knowledge book of 20th Century furniture. Eras, periods and styles are explored with attention focused on significant designers and their works.

This covers everything you need to become a knowledgeable admirer and collector of the best 20th-century furniture. The subject is placed in historical context, with a section on the Industrial Revolution and its impact on the development of design. Principal designers and makers such as Eames, Jacobsen, Bertoia, and Knoll are highlighted in color features.

About the Author John Sollo's career as a dealer began casually in the late 1970s, with visits to estate sales and country auctions. Developing a love of folk art, he began his aesthetic education by reading and, most meaningfully, conversing with knowledgeable dealers and collectors. He became both a picker and a dealer. Folk Art was his focus until 1987 when he became hooked on modern design. Along with a handful of other enthusiasts, scholars, and experts he has defined and created the market for mid-century design. In person and in print, on television and radio, as a lecturer and author, he has brought thousands of collectors to appreciate the appeal of Modern's diverse and exciting aesthetics. Today he and his partner, David Rago, hold two major auctions a year in New Jersey, USA. John is described by Antiques and Arts Weekly as: "a premier authority in 20th Century Modern". Lita Solis-Cohen is Senior Editor at Maine Antique Digest and has had a long association with Miller's, contributing to numerous titles. She has been involved in the antiques trade for over 30 years and is advisor to the American Antiques Roadshow Bookclub.
