Susan Zevon : Outside Architecture: Outdoor Rooms Designed by Architects before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Outside Architecture: Outdoor Rooms Designed by Architects:

7 of 9 people found the following review helpful. STRIKING!By Nina ImmersPhotographic journal that will definitely spur some new ideas. Most are more modern, but reminiscent of the Frank Lloyd Wright style of architecture with very strong lines. Multiple settings and unique media usage. Every structural artist who plans an endeavor in the garden should have this!

Outside Architecture richly illustrates an intriguing variety of contemporary outdoor rooms designed by accomplished architects from around the world. --Features a wide range of designs, from terraces and pool houses, to rooftop gardens in both urban and country settings. --Details over 50 beautiful projects in 200 full-color photographs, site plans, and architects' drawings. Just as Inside Architecture reveals the renaissance of architect-designed interiors, Outside Architecture illustrates the infinite variety of contemporary outdoor rooms being designed by top architects today.
