I bought it for the buildings, not to gape at celebrities, and found it to be outstanding. I'm always amazed at how imaginative architects can be, and some of their best works are on view here. It's a book to get lost in. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. superb book By Dorothy J. Jenkinsi love architecture and home interior design. these are eye candy, every single page. great book by A.D. 8 of 8 people found the following review helpful. Private Views: Inside the World's Greatest Homes By Celia Tulloch Thoroughly enjoyed this book! The articles accompanying the pictures were informative and concise. One error noted was David Bowie's Mustique property. The editor did not update the article to state that UK billionaire Felix Dennis had purchased the property and furnishings from David Bowie in 1995. A worthwhile addition to the library of those who are interested in architecture and/or interior design.

This dazzling sequel to Hollywood at Home takes readers on an international tour of the most spectacular homes that have graced the pages of Architectural Digest, the world's leading design publication since Paige Rense became editor in chief in 1970. Featuring thirty homes, Private Views collects in one volume the best in interior design and architecture as determined by Paige Rense and her editors. Readers will learn the virtues of island living through David Bowie and Imans idyllic Caribbean retreat; take in the breathtaking views from Giorgio Armani's cliffside villa; wander the rooms and sprawling grounds of the Duke and Duchess of Northumberland's castle; and tour Catherine the Great's Chinese-inspired jewel box of a house, among many others.

About the Author Paige Rense joined Architectural Digest in 1970 and shortly thereafter was named editor in chief. Under her direction, the Los Angeles-based magazine has become the world's leading design publication. She is the editor of Abrams Hollywood at Home and author of nine books on interior style and design.
