This book takes the student or home upholsterer on from the most basic skills, gradually building up a working knowledge of the various methods, so that by the finish any type of upholstered furniture can be tackled with confidence.

About the AuthorMalcolm Hopkins has had a long career in upholstery and has worked on all types of commissions, from domestic furniture to luxury yachts. He is currently head of the upholstery department at the London Metropolitan University but as well as teaching, he is still also a practicing upholsterer. For his services to the industry, he has been made a Fellow of the Association of Master Upholsterers and a Freeman of the Worshipful

Company of Upholders.
